On International Education Day which is held every year on 24th January, the Kingdom's private schools had warm messages to remind citizens of the importance of education.

The future of the Kingdom and the well-being of its citizens are directly related to the quality of education it provides to its children and adolescents.

Vice Principal of the Indian School, Anand Nair said, "The International Education Day is a testimony of our tryst with Educational excellence. Galloping on the path, we together embark on a journey of knowledge and learning.

K Gopinath Menon, Principal of The New Indian School

"Tamoso ma Jyotirgama which means lead me from darkness to light has been the value which The Indian School Bahrain stood for and we resolve to fortify our commitment with every student; with every learner. We are committed to excellence in Education. Best wishes on the occasion of The International Education Day."

K Gopinath Menon, Principal of The New Indian School told, "The International Education Day, this year is dedicated to the Afghan women and girls, as we all know education must be priorities so that there is no inequality and right to education is of the universal declaration of human rights.

"Education offers children a ladder to a promising future so on behalf of the New Indian School management, let me extend the wishes to everyone on account of The International Education Day.

"Education provides a lifelong opportunity to everyone and the youth should be empowered by education."

Meanwhile on this occasion, in recognition of the joint educational cooperation between the two sister countries, the Ministry of Education met his Emirati counterpart.

A meeting was held between the two ministries of education where important academic and educational concerns were discussed as well as perspectives on various fields, particularly in the sphere of higher education, according to the Ministry of Education.
