Iggy Azalea recalls feeling 'deprived of a personal life'

Celebretainment | Los Angeles

Iggy Azalea has felt "utterly deprived of a personal life" during her music

The 32-year-old rapper has taken to social media to offer advice to aspiring music stars, admitting that her own path towards fame and success hasn't been straightforward.

Iggy - who moved from Australia to the US during her teens to follow her music ambitions - wrote on the micro-blogging platform: "Here's the thing I think everyone working hard toward a dream should know.

"On the road to ur goal there will be moments u feel insane, utterly deprived of a personal life and like everything's falling apart.

"When u reach ur goal... u will still have those moments.

"Its normal. (sic)"

Iggy announced in 2021 that she was taking a break from music for "a few years" to focus on "other creative projects".

However, the rap star later confirmed her return to the music scene via a Twitter post.

Iggy wrote online: "A year ago I was willing to walk away from music because I was tired of the negative energy it attracted. "But what I've learned is that even when I'm minding my business, y'all gonna be negative AND nosey. "So if I can't have peace, neither can "I'm coming back. Cry about it. (sic)" Iggy also returned to touring alongside Pitbull earlier this year.

Comedian Trevor Noah to leave 'The Daily Show' after seven years

Reuters | Washington

omedian Trevor Noah, host of "The Daily Show" on Comedy Central, said he was going to leave the program after hosting it for seven years, indicating he wanted to dedicate more time to stand-up

The 38-year-old comedian who moved to the United States in 2011 and was born in Johannesburg, South Africa - had big shoes to fill when he took over in 2015 after the exit of longtime host Jon Stewart.

He quickly established himself with his own brand, suited for an era where online influence was often greater than that of content on cable.

His reign on The Daily Show required him to delicately cover some crucial moments in American history, such as and the 2021 attacks on the US Capitol.

Trevor Noah

"I spent two years in my apart- other part of my life that I want you must do it, you will not be the COVID-19 pandemic, the ment (during COVID-19), not on to carry on exploring," Noah ready," the comedian told Reu-Black Lives Matter movement the road. The Daily Show succeeded his legendary preagain, I realized that there's an- posted a clip of Noah's remarks decessor.

"We have laughed together, we have cried together. But after seven years, I feel like it's time," Noah said.

He ended his remarks by thanking his viewers as his studio audience stood up to applaud him.

Noah, who roasted US politicians and the media at the White House Correspondents Association dinner in April, did not mention his exact departure date in his remarks on Thursday. It was not known who would succeed him.

The key to addressing current affairs through a comedic lens lies in a comedian's intention, Noah said in a 2016 interview with Reuters, adding that he learns from his mistakes.

"I don't think I would ever have been ready, but that's when

Tom Hanks says he's made only four 'pretty good' movies
