The Diplomatic Protocol Communications, in association with The Walt Disney Publishing and National Geographic, launched the "Explore Beyond" book and project on the Kingdom of Bahrain in the presence of high-level government officials and ambassadors in Manama.

The project aims to highlight the historical, cultural, geographical and environmental features that Bahrain has to offer, and present them to local and international audiences.

Speaking at the event, the founder of Diplomatic Protocol Communications, Janez Lotric, affirmed that the project is the culmination of seven years of work and collaboration between several bodies, noting the facilitations made by the relevant authorities to make this project possible.

He added that the project is meant to answer the questions of those who want to further explore the hidden gems of Bahrain, showcasing them to tourists and investors from across the globe.

During the event, a number of individuals and entities were awarded in appreciation of their efforts towards the completion of the project.

Two online scam suspects held

TDT | Manama

The Northern Governorate Police Directorate has arrested two individuals, 35 and 47, for scam cases, including pretending to invest money for double profits.

An investigation into the received cases led to identifying and arresting the suspects.

The probe revealed that they reached out to their victims through social media. Legal proceedings were taken, and the case was referred to the Public Prosecution.

Rain provides respite from scorching heat

Rain leaves roads wet and slippery

After enduring days of sweltering heat, Bahrain experienced a welcome change in weather as rain showers and a brisk breeze swept across the kingdom yesterday.

The much-awaited rainfall brought a sense of relief to the population, who eagerly took to social media to express their joy and appreciation for the respite.

On platforms such as Twitter, Instagram, and Snapchat, Bahrainis shared their excitement and love for the weather, highlighting the relief they felt after days of scorching temperatures.

Many locals were seen venturing outdoors, seizing the opportunity to enjoy the pleasant weather in parks and other open spaces.

According to the Meteorological Department, the maximum temperature recorded yesterday was 32 degrees Celsius, with a low temperature of 25 degrees Celsius.

In light of the rain showers, the General Directorate of Traffic has issued a cautionary advisory to drivers, urging them to exercise caution on the roads.

Motorists are advised to stay in their lanes, adhere to speed limits, maintain a safe distance between vehicles, and remain focused on the road for their own safety.
