Two-day curfew for Iraq's first census in decades

AFP | Baghdad

 \mathbf{I} raq will impose a two-day curfew in November for the country's first census in 27 years, the authorities announced yesterday.

The "curfew will be imposed in all provinces of Iraq on November 20 and 21 to conduct a population census", Prime Minister Mohamed Shia al-Sudani said in a statement.

Ravaged by decades of conflict and violence, Iraq has postponed a census several times, most notably in 2010 because of tensions between communities over disputed territories.

The last general census was held in 1997 in 15 Iraqi provinces - excluding the three northern provinces that made up the autonomous Kurdistan Region.

17 bodies found after Kamchatka helicopter crash

AFP | Moscow

Rescuers yesterday said they had found 17 bodies after a helicopter crashed with 22 people aboard in Russia's Kamchatka peninsula in the far east.

The helicopter went missing shortly after takeoff Saturday carrying 19 tourists and 3 crew, regional authorities said.

Kamchatka is a picturesque, wild region popular for adventure tourism due to its active volcanoes and pristine nature.

Torrential rains in Niger kill 15 more people

AFP | Niamey, Niger

Torrential rains in Niger have killed at least 15 more people, regional authorities said yesterday, the latest casualties of the downpours lashing the African nation.

Heavy rains have been drenching Africa's Sahel region since June and the latest victims in Niger come on top of at least 217 people who have died across the country in that time.

More than 350,000 people have been affected.

Hajj operators worried as quota slashed for expat pilgrims under unified licensing framework

Mohammed Darwish TDT | Manama

ajj operators who cater primarily to expatriates have expressed their worries over fresh licensing regulations that they believe could edge them out of the market.

The previous system, which allocated separate licences for Bahraini and expatriate pilgrims, has been replaced by a unified framework.

The new rules stipulate that a campaign can host up to 90 pilgrims: 80 places for Bahrainis, five for Gulf nationals, and just five for expatriates.

banks. This oversight is implemented through the Wage Protection System established by the Labour Market Regulatory Authority (LMRA) to guarantee that workers receive their wages as stipulated in their employment contracts.

"Under the Wage Protection System, employers are obligated to transfer their workers' salaries through a bank or a financial institution licensed by the Central Bank of Bahrain."

Lawyer Fatima bin Rajab pointed out that the existing legislation lacks penalties, hindering enforcement efforts.

She proposed legislation that would impose various criminal penalties, especially since the amendment to Article 46 of the Labour Law did not include penalties for those who fail to transfer wages to banks.

Bin Rajab pointed to several reasons behind the low compliance rate with the wage system by small business owners, including renting out records to foreigners, trading in visa sales, and exploiting the wage support provided by Tamkeen.

Summer Safety

The Bahrain Free Labour Unions (BFLU) has announced the successful conclusion of the 12th edition of its annual campaign to improve working conditions and labour rights during the summer months.

The campaign, which ran throughout July and August, involved a series of awareness and rights-based events and activities across various sectors in the Kingdom, in collaboration with relevant government and private entities.

The campaign focused on a range of summer safety-related topics, including recognizing the symptoms of heat stress and how to manage it, preventing sunburns, and navigating hot weather safely. The BFLU's Summer Safety Campaign is a crucial initiative aimed at creating a safe and healthy environment for the community during the summer months.

It promotes public awareness of the importance of safety and proper preparation to address the challenges associated with hot weather.

Sarah Al Nuaimi, Vice President for Occupational Health and Safety, said the campaign included activities and awareness initiatives to educate workers about their rights.

LEGAL VIEWPOINT The Notice of Arbitration

DR. ABDELGADIR WARSAMA GHALIB. LEGAL COUNSEL EMAIL: AWARSAMA@WARSAMALC.COM

Then parties decide to go for arbitration for the settlement of their dispute, under, The UNICITRAL Rules, fortunately, there are very clear provisions to follow by each party. They are explained as introductory rules, to start the arbitration.

To begin with, as per Article (3) of the UNICITRAL Arbitration Rules, the party or the "parties", who determine initiating recourse to arbitration, in other words the (claimant), shall communicate to the other party or parties, herein the (respondent), a notice of arbitration.

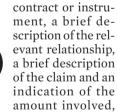

Technically, this is the first step, to be taken by the claimant in the process of arbitration. All talks or discussions before such notice, are of no practical useful value and could be taken as mere intention to go for arbitration. This intention, needs an act to materialize.

Since a notice of arbitration has been communicated by the claimant, the arbitral proceedings shall be deemed to commence on the date on which the notice of arbitration is received by the respondent.

The notice of arbitration from the claimant, to be effecif any, the relief or remedy sought, a proposal as to the number of arbitrators, the language and the place of arbitration, if the parties have not previously agreed thereon.

Above points, shall be clearly and precisely included in the notice of claim to be presented by the claimant. Legally speaking, we need to stress that, if the notice of claim didn't include any of above important points, it could be taken that, the claimant had relinquished his right in such point and it can't be taken as part of the arbitration claim. So, make sure not to jeopardize your claim by such havocs.

The constitution of the arbitral tribunal shall not be hindered by any controversy with respect to the sufficiency of the notice of arbitration, which shall be finally resolved by the Arbitration Tribunal. This point, indicates, the power given to the arbitrators, in the process of arbitration to achieve fast As mentioned above, the notice of claim shall refer to the arbitration clause or "agreement" which has been agreed upon earlier between the parties. Important to mention here, that the "arbitration clause" shall be drafted precisely and in satisfactory details to enable the arbitration to start and proceed smoothly. If, referring to arbitration in the agreement, you are required to give the full story about this arbitration or the arbitration may work against you and your interest. A good example, the concerned party, may choose a law totally different from the law that appropriately suits you and your

Australian Open champion Sinner raced past 87th-ranked Christopher O'Connell 6-1, 6-4,

The 23-year-old Italian's win came a day after four-time champion Djokovic was sent spinning to his earliest loss in New York in 18 years by Alexei Popyrin.

One day earlier, 2022 winner Alcaraz was defeated Dutch journeyman Botic van de Zandschulp.

With Djokovic and Alcaraz heading home to Europe, Daniil Medvedev finds himself as the only former champion left in the men's tournament.

The eccentric Russian, seeded five, swept past Flavio Cobolli, the world number 31 from Italy, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3.

Medvedev famously shattered Djokovic's bid for a rare calendar Grand Slam when he captured the 2021 title in New York.

"I said before the match that for me the upsets don't matter. and the favourites have fewer margins," said Medvedev after making the fourth round for the sixth straight year.

He'll face unseeded Nuno Borges of Portugal who saved three match points in a five-set triumph over Czech teenager Jakub Mensik.

Britain's Jack Draper reached a lowly 143 in the the last 16 for a second succesworld, undone by sive year by defeating Alcaraz's conqueror Botic van de Zand-Four-time French schulp 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.
