urvivors of the monsoon Ofloods that ravaged Nepal at the weekend criticised the government vesterday for inadequate relief efforts during a disaster that killed at least 225 people.

Deadly floods and landslides are common across South Asia during the monsoon season from June to September but experts say climate change is making them worse.

Entire neighbourhoods in the capital Kathmandu were inundated at the weekend, along with villages in remote pockets of the Himalavan country that were still awaiting relief efforts.

"There is no road, so no one has come," Mira KC, who lives in a village in Kavre district to Kathmandu's east, told AFP.

Tamkeen Unveils New Wage Support Tracks for National Employment Program

TDT| Manama

Rollowing the huge success of its wage support programme in incentivizing companies to employ Bahraini nationals, the Labour Fund (Tamkeen) said vesterday that it is expanding the National Employment Program by introducing two new wage support tracks.

These updates, designed to enhance the Ministry of Labour's Jobs+ initiative, provide fresh options for companies to receive financial support when hiring local talent.

The newly introduced tracks offer employers the choice between two support schemes: a 50% wage subsidy for three years or a 30% subsidy for five years. This adds to the existing option, which currently provides 70% wage support in the first year, followed by 50% in the second year, and 30% in the third year.

She added that these enhancements to the National Employment Program create an environment that fosters growth and opportunities for Bahrainis, contributing to the long-term goal of making them the preferred choice for employment.

Comprehensive platform

The Ministry of Labour's Jobs+ program, launched earlier this year in collaboration with the private sector, provides a comprehensive platform to connect Bahraini job seekers with private sector opportunities.

Job seekers, whether registered with the Ministry of Labour or not, can access a range of services including career counselling, job matching, and personalized follow-ups to secure sustainable employment.

Government rejects parliamentary proposal to eliminate 1% salary slice for unemployment insurance fund

H Naser TDT | Manama

The government has officially rejected a parliamentary proposal to eliminate the 1% salary deduction contributing to the unemployment insurance fund.

The government's response outlines several key reservations regarding the proposed replacement of this deduction with revenue from Value Added Tax (VAT).

The government's rejection centers on four main points:

Mandy Moore welcomes a baby girl

Mandy Moore Bang Showbiz | Los Angeles

Mandy Moore has given birth to a baby girl.

The 40-year-old actress has taken to social media to announce the birth of her third child with husband Taylor Goldsmith.

Alongside a photo of Mandy cradling her baby girl, she wrote: "Lou is here! Louise Everett Goldsmith arrived happy, healthy, expeditiously and right in time for Virgo season. She is our absolute dream girl and her big brothers are already as obsessed with her as we are. Endlessly grateful for our family of 5 (and our very own big three) and soaking in every moment of this special time. [heart emojis]

Mandy announced her pregnancy in May.

The actress - who also has Gus, three, and Ozzie, 22 months, with Taylor revealed the news via Instagram, sharing a photo of her two sons wearing white T-shirts that read "Big" and "Middle".

The actress - who has been married to Taylor since 2018 - captioned the snap on Instagram: "Sometimes life imitates art. The third in our own Big Three coming soon. Can't wait for these boys to have a baby sister. [heart emojis] (sic)"

Mandy's social media post was a reference to her 'This Is Us' storyline, as her on-screen character was also a parent to two boys and a girl.

Prior to that, Mandy admitted that she's found motherhood to be a "challenging and rewarding" experience.

She told PEOPLE in 2021: "Being a mom has certainly made me aware of how challenging and rewarding motherhood is."
