 TDT | Manama

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs has strongly condemned the recent terrorist attack on a hotel in the Somali capital, Mogadishu, which resulted in numerous deaths and injuries.

The Ministry emphasised the Kingdom of Bahrain's firm stance against terrorism and violence, asserting that such criminal acts are in direct contradiction with international laws and moral and humanitarian values. In its statement, the Ministry expressed solidarity with Somalia and endorsed its efforts to ensure national security and stability.

Bahrain extended heartfelt condolences to the families of the victims, as well as to the Somali government and people, while wishing a speedy recovery to those injured in the attack.

Government passes new law for partial check payments and removing jail time for bounced checks

● Individuals and businesses can settle outstanding balances through installment plans

Mohammed Darwish
 TDT | Manama

After years of deliberation, the government has officially approved significant amendments to its Commercial Law, addressing the issue of "checks without sufficient funds."

The new law, which was passed by the government to the legislative authorities, aims to streamline check payments and reduce the risk of financial hardship for individuals and businesses.

The new law introduces a system of partial check payments, allowing individuals and businesses to pay off outstanding balances in installments.

This eliminates the previous practice of imprisonment for bouncing checks, a measure that was widely criticised for its harshness.

The Central Bank of Bahrain, which initially proposed the complete removal of jail time for bouncing checks, has now agreed to a more nuanced approach.

While the new law does not completely abolish the possibility of imprisonment, it significantly reduces its likelihood by mented through various methods, including bank statements, clearing house statements, or other means specified by the Central Bank.

This ensures that there is a clear record of partial payments, protecting both the payer and the payee.

Smooth transition

The Central Bank of Bahrain will be responsible for issuing regulations and guidelines on the implementation of the new law, ensuring a smooth transition to the new system.

The bank will also work closely with financial institutions and stakeholders to ensure that the new law is effectively implemented.

This new legislation will be discussed by the Parliament before being addressed by the Shura Council if members of the parliament approve it.

Israel strike kills 10 at Gaza school compound

AFP | Palestinian Territories

Gaza's civil defence agency said an Israeli strike struck a school compound in Gaza City yesterday, killing at least 10 people.

"There are 10 martyrs and several wounded due to Israeli bombardment on Hamama school," agency spokesman Mahmud Bassal told AFP.

The Israeli military confirmed the strike, saying it had hit a Hamas command and control centre located inside the compound.

Bassal said the compound was housing Palestinians displaced from their homes in the ongoing war between Israel and Hamas fighters.

The Israeli military has repeatedly accused Hamas of using civilian facilities as command and control centres or to hide their commanders and leaders. The Palestinian group denies the accusation.

The war in Gaza erupted after Hamas fighters attacked Israel on October 7, which resulted in the death of 1,197 people, mostly civilians, according to an AFP tally based on official Israeli figures.

Hamas also seized 251 people, 111 of whom are still held hostage in Gaza, including 39 the military says are dead.

Israel's withering military campaign has killed at least 39,550 people, according to the Gaza's health ministry.

Ministry of Industry and Commerce in Bahrain opens registration for Saudi enterprises in Takamul

TDI | Manama

The Ministry of Industry and Commerce in the Kingdom of Bahrain has announced that registration is now open for Saudi establishments wishing to participate in the Local Value Program in Industry (Takamul).

This program, which is a key initiative of the Kingdom's Industrial Sector Strategy (2022-2026), aims to enhance the "In-Country Value" (ICV) of industrial products and improve supply chain efficiency.

The Minister of Industry and Commerce, H.E. Mr. Abdulla bin Adel Fakhro, emphasised the importance of this initiative in strengthening the long and deep-rooted strategic partnerships between Bahrain and the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, highlighting the strong support from both governments and their leaderships to the different joint programs and initiatives.

He noted that this positive development emanates from the outcomes of the third meeting of the Saudi-Bahraini Co-ordination Council, chaired by His Royal Highness Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa, the Crown Prince and Prime Minister, and His Royal Highness Prince Mohamed bin Salman bin Abdulaziz Al Saud, the Crown Prince and Prime Minister of Saudi Arabia.

The Minister explained that the initiative reflects the commitment to reciprocity

Bahraini youth hailed as 'young ambassadors'

TDI | Manama

The Minister of Youth Affairs, Her Excellency Rawan bint Najib Tawfiqi, expressed high praise for the youth of the Kingdom of Bahrain, describing them as the young ambassadors for the nation's principles and values in regional and international forums.

She emphasised their competence and the trust placed in them to showcase the Kingdom's efforts in youth empowerment and skill development.

The Minister highlighted the importance of celebrating successful young individuals who contribute to building a bright future for the Kingdom.

As the announcement of the participants in the second edition of the Bahraini Youth Ambassadors Program approaches, Tawfiqi reflected on the program's goals.

The program also aims to represent the Kingdom in various youth forums and conferences while leveraging the energy of youth to highlight Bahrain's civilised image," she said.

The Minister noted the success of the program's first edition, which saw young ambassadors participating in numerous youth forums and events.

Through these engagements, they effectively communicated with their global peers, exchanging experiences, knowledge, and skills.

These interactions also provided an opportunity to demonstrate Bahrain's strategy in empowering youth and supporting their projects and innovations.

Essential cybersecurity tips to protect your business

Mohammed Darwish

TDI | Manama

In our interconnected world, the spectre of malware hangs over businesses of every scale, making cybersecurity a pressing priority.

The General Directorate of Anti-Corruption & Economic & Electronic Security calls for taking preemptive actions to shield your organisation from digital threats. Here are key steps to shore up your cyber defences.

First, maintaining up-to-date systems is critical. Regular updates for your operating system and applications often include security patches that address vulnerabilities exploited by malware.

Turn on automatic updates where feasible and regularly check for essential security fixes. Ignoring these updates leaves your systems open to attacks.

Next, a well-configured firewall is a vital barrier, blocking unauthorised access and preventing malware infiltration.

Ensure your operating system's built-in firewall is always turned on and restricts traffic based on your security policies. This protective measure is indispensable.

Removable storage devices, such as USB drives, can unwittingly introduce malware. Enforce strict policies limiting their use and encourage secure, cloud-based storage solutions.

By controlling access to removable media, you mitigate the risk of malware spreading.

Enhancing authentication through multi-factor authentication (MFA) adds an additional security layer.

MFA requires users to provide extra verification, like a one-time code or biometric data, alongside their login credentials. This method ensures that even if login details are compromised, your systems remain protected.

Employee education is crucial. Regular cybersecurity training equips your staff with the awareness to recognise and avoid potential threats, such as phishing attempts and suspicious downloads. Vigilant employees can greatly reduce the likelihood of successful malware attacks.

Election fever heats up

10 candidates vie for seat in Muharraq's First constituency

● Saleh Al Sada and Abdullah Al Sehli emerge as latest potential candidates

TDT | Manama

The race for the vacant seat in Muharraq's first constituency is heating up, with over 10 candidates officially declaring their intentions to run in the upcoming by-election.

The seat became available after the previous representative, Mohammed Al Hussaini, was disqualified due to holding dual citizenship at the time of running in the elections, held in 2022.

The election is scheduled for September, and the campaign period officially begins next week.

Already, candidates are actively engaging with voters, hosting meet-and-greets, and utilising social media platforms to spread their messages.

Among the declared candidates are prominent figures like Dr Essam Al Alawi, businessman Ibrahim Al Shaikh, Khalid Sulai-beekh, Saleh Al Sada, Khawla Al Busmait, Nada bin Shams, Abdullah Al Sehli, Ahmed Al Tamimi, and Shaikh Mohammed Al Qallaf.

Range of issues

The candidates are focusing on a range of issues, including economic development, social services, and addressing the concerns of local residents.

Several candidates have already launched initiatives aimed at improving the lives of those living in the constituency.

The first constituency, located in the Al Busaiten area of Muharraq, comprises four electoral blocks, and the upcoming by-election is expected to draw significant attention from voters.

Competitive elections

The first constituency in Muharraq, which Al Hussaini previously held, is known for its competitive elections, particularly the recent November 2022 election, which went to a second round between Al Hussaini and Dr Al Alawi.

Thirteen independent candidates ran in the first round of the previous election, marking the first time that candidates from the associations were absent.

The constituency was previously a stronghold of the Asalah Society, with former MP Adel Al Mawda holding the seat for several legislative terms.

Intense campaign

Observers predict that the by-election will see an early and intense campaign, with a high number of candidates expected to announce their candidacy in the coming weeks.

The results of the first round of the previous election, in descending order of votes, were as follows: Mohammed Al Hussaini (2505 votes), Dr. Essam Al Alawi (1645 votes), Abdulaziz Al Mannai (1130 votes), Hamad Al

The election is scheduled for September, and the campaign period officially begins next week.

Kooheji (1078 votes), Ghazi Al Murbati (831 votes), Mohammed Al Mutawa (775 votes), Ahmed Al Tamimi (345 votes), Jamal Al Jowder (149 votes), Khawla Al Busmait (116 votes), Subah Al

Thawadi (108 votes), Jassim Al Hamadi (63 votes), and Saleh Al Sada (50 votes).

The second round saw Dr. Al Alawi and Mohammed Al Hussaini compete, with Al Hussaini winning with 63% of the vote compared to Al Alawi's 37%.

Needs

Potential candidate Saleh Al Sada announced his seriousness in running for the available seat through the "Instagram" platform, confirming that he is aware of the needs of the constituency and its people, in addition to following everything that concerns the citizens during the current period.

As for the potential candidate Ibrahim Al Al Shaikh, he opened his Majlis a week before the of-icial announcement of the candidacy, where he received the people of the constituency.

Initiatives

Meanwhile, the potential candidate Abdullah Al Sehli appeared in various recorded clips, announcing a number of initiatives in case he wins the seat of the constituency, the most prominent of which is the establishment of the Social Fund to serve the people of Al Busaiten and the donation of 80% of his salary in the Council of Representatives if he wins the seat of the constituency.

Last week also witnessed the announcement by Shaikh Mohammed of his intention to run in the by-election, stating that he will be addressing many hot files that concern the citizens in the House of Representatives in case he wins the seat.

Moreover, Dr Nada Bin Shams also announced her intention to run for the elections.

The First Constituency in the Muharraq Governorate includes 4 blocks, which are 225, 226, 228, and 229.

University student's appeal against expulsion rejected by court

TDT | Manama

A Bahraini university student who was expelled for attempting to hack into the university's electronic systems has had his appeal rejected by the Administrative Court.

The court upheld the university's decision, stating that the student's actions were proven through an administrative investigation and a final criminal judgment against him.

The student had argued that the expulsion was arbitrary and excessive, claiming that the university had overreacted to his actions. He requested a reduction in the punishment.

"I am deeply disappointed by the university's decision to expel me," the student told the court during the trial. "I believe they have overreacted, and the punishment of expulsion is excessive. I am hoping the court will reduce the penalty."

However, the court ruled that the university's assessment of the severity of the student's misconduct was justified considering the circumstances.

The court emphasised that its role in reviewing disciplinary measures is limited to ensuring

Image used for illustrative purposes only the student's guilt and the legality of the punishment.

It does not extend to evaluating the appropriateness of the penalty, as the university has the authority to determine the severity of the offense and the corresponding disciplinary action within legal limits.

The student's offenses included stealing a fellow student's password, impersonating her, and attempting to damage the university's computer systems by installing malicious software.

These actions were deemed to be serious breaches of university regulations and traditions.

The university's disciplinary code outlines a range of penalties for student misconduct, including warnings, suspension, and expulsion.

The court recognised that expulsion is a severe penalty but deemed it appropriate in this case, given the seriousness of the student's actions and the university's authority to impose such sanctions.

Two face trial for illegal fishing

TDT | Manama

The Head of the Public Prosecution Office for Ministries and Public Entities announced that investigations into two incidents of illegal fishing and trading of undersized fish have been concluded.

Two defendants, one of Arab and one of Asian descent, have been referred to the Second Minor Criminal Court.

The case is scheduled for hearing on August 19, 2024.

The incidents were brought to light following reports from the Fishing Ports Administration of the Supreme Council for the Environment.

The reports detailed the monitoring of two boats returning from the sea, carrying 77 kilograms of hairtail and safi fish.

The fish were found to be below the legally permitted size.

The Head of the Public Prosecution Office emphasized the importance of adhering to legal regulations designed to protect marine resources.

He stressed that compliance with these controls, including the prohibition of catching undersized fish, is crucial for sustaining fish stocks and preserving marine biodiversity.

Fatal vehicle accident

The Ministry of Interior reported a tragic road accident this morning on Al-Quds Street in Isa Town, resulting in the death of one individual and injuries to several others. The incident occurred when a vehicle overturned and collided with a tree. The Ministry announced the accident via its official account on the "X" platform. The injured were transported to the hospital by the National Ambulance service, while the competent authorities are currently conducting investigations at the scene.

Court awards BD8,000 compensation to man injured in 2006 traffic accident

TDT | Manama

The High Civil Court has awarded BD8,000 in compensation to a 30-year-old man who sustained a 15% permanent disability in his foot due to a traffic accident caused by a 60-year-old driver in 2006.

The Civil Court ruled in favour of the plaintiff, citing the severity of his injuries and the negligence of the defendant.

According to lawyer Ali Mahfouz, representing the injured man, the accident resulted in significant damage to his client's right leg, including ankle pain, a forward bend in the leg, and foot deformation.

"The accident has had a significant impact on my life," said the injured man during the trial. "I have been dealing with constant pain and a deformity in my right leg that has severely affected my mobility. This compensation is critical to help me manage the ongoing effects of this incident."

The court, relying on the report of a medical committee appointed in the case, confirmed that the plaintiff's injuries had worsened since the 2006 accident, making both the driver and his insurance company liable for compensation.

The medical report highlighted the plaintiff's ongoing pain and a slight deformation in his right leg due to improper bone healing, resulting in foot deviation and flattening.

The committee estimated the permanent disability at 15% of the total.

The court awarded BD7,000 to compensate for the aggravation of the injuries, acknowledging the nature of the injuries and the deformation in the right leg.

Additionally, the court granted BD1,000 in moral damages for the pain and suffering endured by the plaintiff, bringing the total compensation to BD8,000.

US lawsuit says TikTok violated young users' privacy

San Francisco, United States

The United States sued TikTok on Friday, saying it had placed the safety of millions of children in jeopardy by collecting their personal data without parental permission.

It was Washington's latest legal broadside launched at TikTok, which is also battling a US law for its Chinese parent ByteDance to sell the video platform or else face a nationwide ban.

The Department of Justice and Federal Trade Commission (FTC) joined forces in Friday's civil suit saying the video-snippet sharing app broke the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA).

"TikTok knowingly and repeatedly violated kids' privacy, threatening the safety of millions of children across the country," FTC chair Lina Khan said in a release.

COPPA bars websites from gathering the personal information of children younger than 13 without parental permission.

The suit argues that since 2019 TikTok has allowed children to use the app, collecting and using personal data from young users without letting their parents know.

Even accounts created in a "Kids Mode" intended for users younger than 13 gathered email addresses and other personal information, the suit contends.

TikTok and its parent company ByteDance often "failed

People walk past an advertisement featuring the TikTok logo at a train station in Zhengzhou, in China's central Henan province to honor" requests by parents to have their children's accounts and data removed, and had ineffective policies for identifying and deleting accounts created by children, Justice Department officials said in the release.

TikTok spokesman Alexander Haurek maintained that the company has safeguards to ensure age-appropriate experiences, and removes accounts suspected of being from underage users.

"We disagree with these allegations, many of which relate to past events and practices that are factually inaccurate or have been addressed," he told AFP.

"We are proud of our efforts to protect children, and we will continue to update and improve the platform."

Five years ago, the US filed a COPPA-focused suit against an app called Musical.ly, which ByteDance had bought and merged into TikTok.

That case resulted in TikTok having to take steps to comply with the children's privacy act, according to justice department officials.

Security threat?

A bill signed by President Joe Biden early this year set a mid-January 2025 deadline for TikTok to find a non-Chinese buyer or face a US ban.

The law stems from Washington's concerns that ByteDance could, and would, comply with Chinese government demands for data about US users or yield to pressure to censor or promote content on the platform.

The Justice Department says TikTok -- which has 170 million US users -- is "a national-security threat of immense depth and scale."

TikTok's has filed a suit in a Washington federal court arguing that the law violates First Amendment rights of free speech.

The US response counters that the law addresses national security concerns, not speech, and that China-based ByteDance is not able to claim First Amendment rights in the United States.

ByteDance has said it has no plans to sell TikTok, leaving the lawsuit, which will likely go to the US Supreme Court, as its only option to avoid a ban.

Coca-Cola says will appeal US tax court penalty worth $6 bn

People walk past a Coca Cola vending machine at a shopping mall in Arlington, Virginia

Coca-Cola said Friday it plans to pay a tax penalty worth $6 billion while it pursues an appeal in a long-running dispute with the Internal Revenue Service.

"The company believes it will prevail on appeal," Coca-Cola said of a US tax court ruling dated July 31 that covered the years 2007, 2008 and 2009. The back taxes amount to $2.7 billion, which with interest makes the total owed "approximately $6.0 billion," the company said.

"The company looks forward to the opportunity to begin the appellate process and, as part of that process, will pay the agreed-upon liability and interest to the IRS," Coca-Cola said Friday, adding that it has 90 days to file a notice with the US Court of Appeals.

The case dates to 2015 when Coca-Cola received a notice from the IRS contesting the company's accounting of income from foreign affiliates over the need for "arms-length" pricing of transactions with these entities, Coca-Cola said in a securities filing.

Following a November 2020 decision in which the US Tax Court ruled against Coca-Cola, the company set aside reserves of $438 million.

News in brief

◆ Bangladeshi student leaders yesterday said they would carry on a planned nationwide civil disobedience campaign until Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina resigned following last month's deadly police crackdown on protesters. Rallies against civil service job quotas sparked days of mayhem in July that killed more than 200 people in some of the worst unrest of Hasina's 15-year tenure. Troop deployments briefly restored order but crowds returned to the streets in huge numbers this week ahead of an all-out non-cooperation movement aimed at paralysing the government planned to begin on Sunday. Students Against Discrimination, the group responsible for organising the initial protests, rebuffed an offer of talks with Hasina earlier in the day before announcing their campaign would continue until the premier and her government step down.

The BTK communications authority announced on its website on Friday that the Meta-owned platform had been frozen, without giving any reason. But Transport and Infrastructure Minister Abdulkadir Uraloglu said on Friday Instagram had ignored government demands for it to remove certain posts. "Our country has values and sensitivities. Despite our warnings, they did not take care of criminal content. "We blocked access. When they abide by our laws, we'll lift the ban."

◆ A flash flood from the mountains of southwestern Saudi Arabia swept away part of a bridge in Jizan province, killing one person yesterday, state media reported. State television news channel Al-Ekhbariya aired images of two vehicles caught up in the floodwaters, one of them crushed by a collapsed bridge support. It said several people were also injured in the bridge collapse at an important crossroads inland from the Red Sea port city of Jizan. The National Centre for Meteorology warned Saturday that more heavy rainfall was still to come in Jizan province, with thunderstorms forecast in the mountains. Jizan province has starkly different climates. The narrow coastal plain along the Red Sea experiences some of the highest temperatures in Saudi Arabia, but the mountains inland, which rise to 3,000 metres (10,000 feet), are much cooler, with significant rainfall even in summer.

Surging Harris, Trump spar over debate dates

Washington, United States

Kamala Harris's campaign branded Donald Trump "scared" Saturday after he proposed to change the presidential debate schedule ahead of a rally in Georgia where he will try to halt the vice president's surging momentum in her bid to become America's first woman president.

Harris and Trump

In an overnight post on his Truth Social app, Trump said he was willing to debate Harris on the conservative Fox News network on September 4, while declining to participate in a previously scheduled debate on ABC.

Trump pitched the idea before going to a rally in Atlanta, where he will gather supporters in the same arena where Harris addressed an excited crowd of some 10,000 just this Tuesday.

Trump said he had "agreed" to the debate plan with Fox. And he said it would take place in Pennsylvania -- a crucial swing state in the US presidential electoral system -- in front of a live audience.

The Harris campaign dismissed this as "games." "Donald Trump is running scared and trying to back out of the debate he already agreed to and running straight to Fox News to bail him out," Harris's campaign communications director Michael Tyler said in a statement. "He needs to... show up to the debate he already committed to on Sept

The proposal to confront Harris on a network that has long supported him was the latest Trump effort to recapture the initiative in a campaign that had been entirely focused on a rematch against 81-year-old Joe Biden, until he dramatically dropped his reelection bid on July 21.

Since then, Harris, 59, has reenergized the Democratic base almost overnight.

She has raked in donations, reassembled the team behind Barack Obama's two historic election victories, and neutralized the solid lead that 78-year-old Trump had built against Biden in opinion polls.

On Friday, she secured the official Democratic nomination, backed by near unanimous party support. Harris is due imminently to announce her vice presidential pick, with the popular governor of key state Pennsylvania, Josh Shapiro, a front-runner. On Tuesday, she is set to launch a countrywide tour with her yet-to-be-named running mate.

Senegal summons Ukrainian ambassador over 'propaganda' video

AFP | Dakar, Senegal

Senegal yesterday summoned the Ukrainian ambassador for publishing a video in support of recent deadly attacks against the Malian army and its Russian allies, the foreign ministry said in a statement.

At the end of July, the Malian army and the Russian mercenary group Wagner suffered one of their biggest setbacks in years in northern Mali, picking up heavy losses at the hands of rebels and jihadists.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs "was surprised to learn of the publication on the Facebook page of the Ukrainian embassy in Dakar of a propaganda video by the Ukrainian army accompanied by a comment by the Ukrainian ambassador himself", the statement said.

"Consistent in its position of constructive neutrality in the Russian-Ukrainian conflict, Senegal cannot tolerate any attempt to transfer to its territory the media propaganda currently being used in this conflict," he said.

Senegal "rejects terrorism in all its forms and cannot accept, on its territory and in any way whatsoever, comments and gestures that excuse terrorism, especially when the latter is aimed at destabilising a sister country such as Mali", the ministry added.

Ukrainian drones hit Russian airfield, oil depot: Kyiv source

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy

AFP | Kyiv, Ukraine

Ukrainian drones targeted a military airfield and an oil depot in Russia, a defence source in Kyiv said yesterday, after Moscow reported repelling the latest aerial barrage.

Kyiv has stepped up aerial attacks on Russian territory, saying it carries out the strikes in retaliation for the bombardments Ukraine has faced since Russia invaded more than two years ago.

"Last night, drones from Ukraine's Security Service visited the Morozovsk airfield in the Rostov region" that stored aircraft and guided aerial bombs, the source said.

"Ukrainian drones did a great job, hitting the aviation ammunition depot," the source added.

Putin vows support to North Korea after devastating floods

AFP | Moscow, Russia

Russian President Vladimir Putin has offered condolences to North Korean counterpart Kim Jong Un over devastating floods that caused untold casualties and damaged thousands of homes, the Kremlin said yesterday.

North Korea said this week it had seen a record downpour on July 27 which killed an unspecified number of people, flooded dwellings and submerged swathes of farmland in the north near China.

"I ask you to convey words of sympathy and support to all those who lost their loved ones as a result of the storm," Putin said in a telegram to Kim.

"You can always count on our help and support." North Korea and Russia have been allies since the North's founding after World War II and have drawn even closer since Moscow's 2022 invasion of Ukraine.

Media in South Korea, which has offered urgent support to the victims, said this week the toll of dead and missing could be as high as 1,500.

Kim lashed out at the reports, dismissing them as a "smear campaign to bring disgrace upon us and tarnish" the North's image.

Natural disasters tend to have a greater impact on the isolated and impoverished country due to its weak infrastructure, while deforestation has left it vulnerable to flooding.

At least two dead after landslides in southwest China

AFP | Beijing, China

Landslides in southwest China yesterday destroyed homes and caused a highway bridge to collapse, killing at least two people and leaving around 17 others missing, authorities said.

State broadcaster CCTV said "local mountain torrents and landslides" swept away part of Ridi village in Garze Tibetan Autonomous Prefecture, Sichuan province.

The disasters killed two people and left 12 missing, CCTV reported, adding that "the disaster situation is undergoing further verification".

In a separate statement, Garze's local government said "a sudden mountain torrent and landslide" caused a highway tunnel bridge to collapse along the highway between Kangding and Luding.

As of 11:00 am, officials had confirmed that at least three vehicles had plunged off the road, carrying six people of whom "one person has been rescued and five are missing", the government said in a social media post.

It added that "at present, multiple rescue forces have arrived at the scene to carry out their work".

It was not immediately clear whether the two incidents were related.

UK tells na Lebanon to

AFP | London, United Kingdom

The UK government yesterday urged its citizens in Lebanon to leave the country immediately, amid fears of all-out war between Israel and Hezbollah and a broader regional conflict.

In a statement, the foreign ministry said British nationals should depart the Middle Eastern country "now while commercial options remain available".

"Tensions are high, and the situation could deteriorate rapidly," said Foreign Minister David Lammy.

"While we are working round the clock to strengthen our consular presence in Lebanon, my message to British nationals there is clear -- leave now."

The Foreign Office said it was "strengthening" its support for Britons in the country by deploying "border force, consular officials and military personnel to the region".

The officials will offer "additional support" to embassy staff while the military personnel will provide embassies with "operational support to help British nationals", the ministry said.

"This is alongside Landing ship RFA Cardigan Bay and HMS Duncan already being in the eastern Mediterranean to support allies with humanitarian requirements, with the Royal Air Force also putting transport helicopters on standby," the statement added.

"With the potential for exit routes out of Lebanon -- including roads -- being affected, limited, or closed, due to events escalating with little warning, teams will continue to urge British nationals to leave while commercial options remain available."

Death toll hits 37 attacks Mogadishu

AFP | Mogadishu, Somalia

An Al-Shabaab suicide bomber and gunmen attacked a busy beach in the Somali capital Mogadishu killing 37 people and wounding scores more, officials said yesterday, in one of the deadliest strikes in the East African country in months.

The Al-Qaeda-linked jihadists have been waging an insurgency against the internationally backed federal government for more than 17 years and have previously targeted the Lido beach area, popular with business people and government members.

Survivors of Friday's assault described how following the blast gunmen stormed onto the beach intending to "kill everyone they could", with graphic video shared online immediately after showing bloodied bodies on the sand.

Iran Guards say 'short-range projectile' killed Hamas chief

AFP | Tehran, Iran

Iran's Revolutionary Guards said yesterday that Israel killed Hamas political chief Ismail Haniyeh using a "short-range projectile" launched from outside of his accommodation in Tehran.

"This terrorist operation was carried out by firing a short-range projectile with a warhead of about 7 kilograms -- causing a strong explosion -- from outside the accommodation area," the Guards said in a statement.

It added that Israel was "supported by the United States" in the attack.

Haniyeh was killed early Wednesday in the Iranian capital where he was attending the swearing-in of the new president, Masoud Pezeshkian.

Iran and Hamas have vowed to retaliate.

The Guards repeated their insistence that Haniyeh would be avenged and that Israel would receive "a severe punishment at the appropriate time, place and manner".

Israel, which has declined to comment on Haniyeh's killing, had earlier struck a Hezbollah stronghold in south Beirut.

That strike killed a senior commander of the Lebanese militant group it blamed for a deadly weekend rocket strike on the Israeli-annexed Golan Heights.

The killings are the latest of several major incidents that have inflamed regional tensions during the Gaza war, which has drawn in Iran-backed militant groups in Syria, Lebanon, Iraq and Yemen.

Haniyeh was killed early Wednesday in the Iranian capital where he was attending the swearing-in of the new president, Masoud Pezeshkian.

US scraps plea deal with 9/11 mastermind

Washington, United States

US Defense Secretary Lloyd Austin on Friday scrapped a plea agreement with 9/11 mastermind Khalid Sheikh Mohammed, just two days after the announcement of a deal that reportedly would have taken the death penalty off the table.

Deals with Mohammed and two alleged accomplices announced Wednesday had appeared to have moved their long-running cases toward resolution -- but sparked anger among some relatives of those killed on September 11, 2001, as well as criticism from leading Republican politicians.

"I have determined that, in light of the significance of the decision to enter into pre-trial agreements with the accused... responsibility for such a decision should rest with me," Austin said in a memorandum addressed to Susan Escallier, who oversaw the case.

"I hereby withdraw from the three pre-trial agreements that you signed on July 31, 2024 in the above-referenced case," the memo said.

The cases against the 9/11 defendants have been bogged down in pre-trial maneuverings for years, while the accused remained held at the Guantanamo Bay military base in Cuba.

CAPTAIN'S CORNER

Putting muscle into patriotism

CAPTAIN MAHMOOD AL MAHMOOD

Bahrain first participated in the Olympics in 1984. Since then, in the intervening four decades, much has changed in the sports scene for the country. A young and dynamic leadership has taken charge of different aspects of sports -- whether it is football, volleyball, equestrian sports, endurance sports such as the Iron Man Triathlon or MMA martial arts, we are seeing a Bahraini leadership which is actively engaged and passionate about sports. HH Shaikh Nasser bin Hamad Al Khalifa is a world-acclaimed equestrian and triathlete; HH Shaikh Khalid bin Hamad Al Khalifa, First Deputy Chairman of the Supreme Council for Youth and Sports (SCYS) and President of the Bahrain Olympic Committee (BOC) invests his energy and resources to personally promote martial arts and world class boxing in Bahrain. He even set a record by swimming 35 hours non-stop between Bahrain and Saudi Arabia to raise funds for charity in 2014.

The result is that Bahraini youth have started looking at sports as a way to build team spirit, cooperation and also physical fitness. Facilities too have improved. From well-maintained sports clubs, regular circuits of matches and investment in coaches who will impart top-class training, Bahraini athletes have been given the opportunity to climb the ladder of sporting success.

And this goes for our para-athletes also. Bahrain has systematically won laurels in the Paralympics, thanks to facilities and training being made available to them.

Make no mistake -- a nation that serves its athletes puts muscle into its patriotism.

Kia tests high-performance 2025 EV6 GT with 585 BHP, rapid charging capability

TDT | agencies

Kia unveiled the 2025 EV6 facelift earlier this year, showing-casing numerous upgrades to both its exterior and interior. Now, the South Korean automaker is testing its range-topping version, the EV6 GT.

Ahead of its global debut, the 2025 Kia EV6 GT has been spotted undergoing testing in Germany. This upcoming model will feature all the upgrades of the standard model, including an updated powertrain. However, as a performance version, the EV6 GT will also include sportier front and rear bumpers, updated light graphics, larger wheels with a new design, contrasting color options, and slightly revised interior trim options.

The 2025 EV6 will come with a larger 84 kWh battery pack as standard, paired with either single or dual electric motors that produce up to 320 BHP in regular trims. Reports suggest that the upcoming EV6 GT variant will have the same battery specifications but will generate a massive 585 BHP from its dual electric motor setup.

Additionally, the EV6 GT will support up to 350 kW DC fast charging, allowing for a 10-80% charge in just 18 minutes. However, Kia has yet to confirm the expected driving range for the sportier EV6 GT model.

Ferrari to accept crypto-payments in Europe

Rome, Italy

Italian luxury carmaker Ferrari said its European dealers will start accepting cryptocurrency, following a similar move in the United States.

The new payment system -- which includes verification of the source of the funds, and immediate conversion of the payments into traditional currency -- will be rolled out from the end of July, it said.

"The entry into the European market follows the successful launch of this alternative payment system in the United States less than a year ago, to support dealers in better addressing the evolving needs of its clients," the company said in a statement.

"By the end of 2024, Ferrari will expand cryptocurrency transactions to other countries in its international dealer network, where cryptocurrencies are legally accepted."

Cryptocurrencies, the most famous of which is bitcoin, are a type of digital currency which, unlike traditional currencies, are not controlled by centralised financial institutions.

Billionaire Elon Musk declared in 2021 that he would sell Tesla cars for bitcoins -- before changing his mind, arguing that its production was too polluting and that he would only accept it when it was less polluting.

Audi has unveiled the first-ever A6 e-tron, available in Sportback and Avant styles, built on the PPE architecture. The A6 e-tron boasts a striking design with split headlights, a body-colored grille, angular bumper, sleek door handles, and 19-inch wheels (upgradable to 21 inches). The rear features a full-width LED light bar, subtle diffuser, and an illuminated Audi logo.

Measuring 4,928 mm in length, 1,923 mm in width, and 1,527 mm in height, the A6 e-tron has a 2,946 mm wheelbase, a 502-liter rear boot, and a 27-liter trunk.

Inside, it mimics the Q6 e-tron SUV's dashboard with an 11.9-inch digital cluster, a 14.5-inch touchscreen, and an additional 10.9-inch screen for passengers. Features include ambient lighting, a new steering wheel, a touchpad for controls, a toggle switch for the drive selector, and a rotary dial for media. Other amenities are a 20-speaker Bang & Olufsen system, full ADAS suite, 360-degree camera, and a panoramic roof.

The A6 e-tron offers RWD, Quattro, and S6 variants, all with a 94.4 kWh battery. The base model produces 362 BHP, the Quattro 422 BHP, and the S6 up to 543 BHP with launch control. It offers a range between 610 km to 756 km and supports 270 kW fast charging, achieving 10-80% charge in 21 minutes. Set to rival the BMW i5, the A6 e-tron will be priced from around 75,000 euros and will be available internationally in the coming months.

Google Maps now suggests parking location

TDT | Manama

Google has updated its Maps application to provide users with a more stress-free experience, media reports say.

The new update to Google Maps now highlights the building the user is looking for, identifies the entrance, and shows where they can park their vehicles.

While the current version only provides directions such as "your destination is on the right," the new update aims to offer a "more complete" experience.

Google Maps will first highlight the building on the app, then locate nearby parking areas.

Google calls the new feature "destination guidance" and will be available across all platforms in the coming weeks.

After this, the feature will use dotted lines to guide users from the parking lot to the building's entrance. Additionally, walking directions will be updated in real-time based on the user's location.

Bahraini Reds show resilience, skill despite loss to Korea

TDT | Manama

In yesterday's match at the Asian Volleyball Championship, the Bahraini Reds fell to the Korean team with a decisive score of 3-0. The set results were 25-15, 25-16, and 25-21.

The Bahraini national team will now compete against China in the match for seventh and eighth places. Meanwhile, the Korean team is set to face Thailand today for the fifth and sixth-place decider.

Despite their loss, the Bahraini Reds showcased their trademark fighting spirit and enthusiasm. However, the Korean team dominated with strong blocking and offensive strategies. Bahraini player Jassim Madan stood out, scoring 15 points despite the defeat.

Team's physical trainer, Mohamed Youssef, noted that the players displayed strong technical skills during the match and gained valuable experience competing at a high level in Asia.

He highlighted that the Korean team's fast-paced play and robust rear defense were key factors, linking their success to their defensive strategies. Despite the loss, Ashouri emphasized that reaching the top eight in the tournament was a significant achievement, especially after advancing from Group 1 as the second seed behind Thailand.

Looking ahead to match against Chinese Taipei, Ashouri expressed optimism. Adhering to Coach Fouad Abdel Wahed's instructions, the team aims to minimize errors and capitalize on the opponent's weaknesses.

Lebanon secures first victory

against Saudi Arabia

The Lebanese national volleyball team achieved their first win of the championship by defeating Saudi Arabia in straight sets: 25-14, 26-24, 25-16, and 25-19.

This marks Lebanon's inaugural victory in their debut Asian Championship.

Lebanon will now compete for the 13th and 14th places, facing Hong Kong today. Meanwhile, Saudi Arabia will take on Kuwait in their battle for the last and second-to-last spots. In their previous encounter, Kuwait defeated Saudi Arabia 3-0 in the Asian Championship.

Lebanese player Serge Chehab was a standout performer, scoring 21 points, surpassing Saudi Arabia's Azzam Al-Subaie, who scored 16 points.

Bastianini wins British MotoGP sprint as Bagnaia crashes out

AFP | Silverstone, United Kingdom

Ducati rider Enea Bastianini won the British MotoGP sprint at Silverstone on Saturday as championship leader Francesco Bagnaia crashed out on lap five.

Bastianini was followed in second by Jorge Martin (Ducati-Pramac), who now stands just one point behind Bagnaia in the overall standings ahead of Sunday's main race.

Pole-sitter Aleix Espargaro (Aprilia) finished third.

Martin was quickly on to Espargaro's tail at the start of the race, overtaking on lap one and appearing to take control.

Bastianini struggled to stay with him for the first couple of laps but slowly reeled him in before sliding past to take the lead which he held until the end

An eventful start saw Franco Morbidelli rear-ending Marco Bezzecchi's Ducati, both Italians sliding off the track, debris cascading from their bikes.

All three will be ready to go again in Sunday's MotoGP for which Espargaro, Bagnaia and Bastianini will start on the front row with Martin just behind them.

Espargaro surprised Bagnaia with a brilliant late lap in qualifying earlier on Saturday to snatch pole position.

Ducati Lenovo Team's Italian rider Enea Bastianini for his first win of any kind since taking the Malaysian MotoGP last November.

"I am very happy," said Bastianini.

"It was a very good fight with Jorge, we were pushing the limit. The lap time was too crazy, all the sprint has been crazy.

"It's my first victory of the year, I'm so happy at one of my favourite tracks, Silverstone. Fantastic."

Martin's second place gave him nine points and tightens the race at the top of the standings but a win would have put him above Bagnaia.

"Right from the start, I took the lead but Enea was much stronger today," he said after the race.

Six-time world champion Marc Marquez, who went into the sprint third in the title race, was running a comfortable fourth when he crashed on the penultimate lap -- only the second time he has failed to score points in a sprint this season.

He subsequently dropped to fourth in the title race behind Bas-

The Silverstone Circuit, which hosts the British Grand Prix, is renowned for its historic and challenging layout. It was originally a World War II bomber airfield, and its layout is one of the fastest and most demanding on the MotoGP calendar.

McClenaghan wins historic Olympic pommel horse gold for Ireland

AFP | Paris, France

Rhys McClenaghan won pommel horse gold at the Paris Games on Saturday for Ireland's first ever Olympic gymnastics medal.

The double world champion made history for his country by edging out Kazakh Nariman Kurbanov by 0.100 points, with Stephen Nedoroscik of the United States in bronze.

Britain's most decorated gymnast Max Whitlock was deprived a perfect send-off to his decorated Olympic career, finishing fourth. Whitlock was seeking an unprecedented fourth medal on the same apparatus after golds at the last two Games in Tokyo and Rio, and bronze at London 2012. He was sitting third until Nedoroscik did enough to take his place on the podium.

McClenaghan crumpled with emotion after his faultless 60-second performance crammed with Russian circles, scissors and handstands, finishing off with a foot-perfect dismount. The 25-year-old from Northern Ireland went into the final as favourite after heading qualifying.

Bahrain Volleyball Association earns top honours for hosting Asian Under-18 Championship

Officials during a press conference

TDT | Manama

The Bahrain Volleyball Association has achieved significant recognition for its organizational excellence by successfully hosting the Asian Under-18 Volleyball Championship. This marks a major accomplishment for the association, earning them a Certificate of Excellence in Organization.

The championship, held at the Isa Bin Rashid Sports Halls Complex, was lauded for its exceptional execution. During a press conference at the union headquarters, Mr. Firas Al-Halwaji, Chairman of the Executive Committee, presented the final report and evaluation of the tournament. The event received high praise from Yermek Serlibaev, President of the Kazakh Arbitration Committee, who commended Bahrain's organizational capabilities.

Mr. Al-Halwaji highlighted the significant contributions of the Media Committee in promoting the tournament and praised the efforts of all involved working committees. He emphasized that this achievement reflects Bahrain's growing reputation as a premier destination for international volleyball events.

Britain win Olympics rowing thriller as Dutch top table

Great Britain's gold medallists Vaires-sur-Marne, France

Britain's men's eight confirmed the nation's return as an Olympic rowing superpower by winning the regatta's blue riband event on Saturday but the Netherlands topped the medals table.

The Dutch ended with four golds, one clear of traditional powerhouse Britain, who came back strongly after failing to win a single event at the Tokyo Games.

The final of the men's eight was a tight battle between two-time reigning world champions Britain and the Netherlands.

Simone Biles wins vault for third gymnastics gold of Paris Games

AFP | Paris, France

Simone Biles soared to women's vault gold on Saturday, her gravity-defying Yurchenko double pike propelling her to a third triumph of the Paris Games and her seventh career Olympic crown.

Biles, who led the United States to team gold before grabbing all-around gold, produced a pair of stunning vaults to notch a resounding victory over Olympic and world champion Rebeca Andrade of Brazil.

American Jade Carey took bronze.

China win Olympic women's doubles for second badminton gold

AFP | Paris, France

China won their second badminton gold of the Paris Olympics on Saturday when Chen Qingchen and Jia Yifan beat compatriots Liu Shengshu and Tan Ning in the women's doubles final.

The top-seeded Chen and Jia took silver at the Tokyo Games three years ago but they went one better at La Chapelle Arena, winning a tense contest 22-20, 21-15.

Japan's Nami Matsuyama and Chiharu Shida took bronze after beating Malaysia's Pearly Tan and Muralitharan Thinaah 21-11, 21-11.

China have topped the badminton medals table at the past six Olympics.

Zheng Qinwen makes history with Olympic singles gold

AFP | Paris, France

Zheng Qinwen became the first Chinese player to win Olympic tennis singles gold when she defeated Croatia's Donna Vekic yesterday, hailing her victory as a "proud" moment for herself and her country.

The 21-year-old came through 6-2, 6-3, winning only China's second ever tennis gold after Li Ting and Sun Tiantian's women's doubles triumph at Athens in 2004.

Yulo wins historic gold for Philippines

AFP | wParis, France

Carlos Yulo triumphed yesterday in the men's floor exercise of the gymnastics in Paris for only the second Olympic gold in the history of the Philippines.

The 24-year-old broke down in tears after matching the achievement of weightlifter Hidilyn Diaz, who won gold at the Covid-delayed 2020 Tokyo Games. "I just went for it, I didn't hesitate," said Yulo.

The former world champion perfectly executed his routine, ending with a sure-footed landing to score 15.000 points. It sealed the first gymnastics Olympic medal ever for the Philippines. Defending champion and world titleholder Artem Dolgopyat of Israel was pushed into silver with 14.966.

"The past months (in general) were hard. I had some problems with my leg and also the training was difficult," said the 27-year-old Dolgopyat. "It's a hard time in Israel. I tried to do my best in the competition, to show everyone that Israel is very strong and that we can win medals."

Britain's Jake Jarman, who had scored highest in qualifying a week ago, achieved 14.933 to take bronze at Bercy Arena.

Yulo had warned he was "shooting for the stars" in Paris after missing out on the podium in Tokyo. And his acrobatic and technically difficult routine proved a hit, scoring higher than the 14.766 he had garnered in qualifying. "I'm so overwhelmed. I'm feeling grateful for having this medal and for God. He protected me, as always," said Yulo, who has a chance of another medal in the vault final on Sunday.

"He gave me the strength to get through this kind of performance and perform this well."

China's Xiao Ruoteng, the Tokyo floor bronze medalist, slumped to last in the eight-man final after hopping out of bounds after his opening jump to finish with 13.933.

Xiao had been bidding for gold to add to his silver in the men's team event and bronze in the all-around competition at the Paris Games.

USA's Crouser wins record third consecutive Olympic shot put gold

AFP | Paris, France

World record-holder Ryan Crouser won an unprecedented third consecutive Olympic title in the men's shot put in Paris yesterday.

Crouser, who previously won at the 2016 Rio Games and in Tokyo in 2021, managed a season's best of 22.90 metres with his third effort for victory at the Stade de France.

Crouser's US teammate Joe Kovacs snatched silver with his sixth and last attempt of 22.15m. Jamaican Rajindra Campbell took bronze. Other athletes to have won two consecutive shot put golds are the American pair of Ralph Rose (1904, 1908), Parry O'Brien (1952, 1956), and Poland's Tomasz Majewski (2008, 2012). It is the 20th time an American has won the event in 30 Olympics. Crouser's victory is all the more remarkable given his injury woes this season.

The American won the world indoor title in Glasgow in March, but since then has suffered two debilitating elbow injuries either side of tearing a pectoral muscle.

Alfred crowned Olympic sprint queen

AFP | Paris, France

St Lucia's

Julien Alfred stunned US favourite Sha'Carri Richardson to win the Olympic women's 100m gold medal on Saturday, etching her name into history to claim the Caribbean nation's first ever medal at the Games.

Richardson, the reigning world champion over 100m, had been hotly tipped to become the first American to win the coveted Olympic crown since Gail Devers in 1996.

But the 24-year-old Texan found herself outgunned by the powerfully built Alfred, who led from start to finish after exploding out of the blocks at a rainswept Stade de France.

Alfred -- who had never finished on the podium at a major outdoor championships prior to Saturday's final -- conjured a superb race to win in 10.72sec as Richardson took silver in 10.87sec and compatriot Melissa Jefferson won bronze in 10.92sec.

Richardson, the reigning world champion over 100m, had been hotly tipped to become the first American to win the coveted Olympic crown since Gail Devers in 1996.

But the 24-year-old Texan found herself outgunned by the powerfully built Alfred, who led from start to finish after exploding out of the blocks at a rainswept Stade de France.

Alfred's gold gave St. Lucia their first ever medal of any colour at an Olympics. The island nation only began competing at the Games in 1996.

It was an incredible performance by Alfred, who had fired a warning shot across Richardson's bows in the semi-finals, finishing ahead of the American in 10.89sec. The semi-final proved to be an ominous portent for Richardson, who was slow out of the blocks and never looked like reeling in Alfred, who could even afford to ease up as she crossed the line to clinch gold.

Alfred was in tears of celebration after sealing a sensational win, running to ring the track-side victory bell before wrapping herself in her country's flag and embracing her American rivals amid a deafening roar from the appreciative Parisian crowd.

Richardson meanwhile was left wondering what had gone with an Olympics campaign that had promised to deliver a gold.

The American, who upset the odds to win gold at last year's World Championships in Budapest, had been hoping to complete her journey to the pinnacle of her sport with Olympic gold in Paris.

Richardson had framed her campaign as a bid for redemption, coming three years after she was barred from competing at the Tokyo Olympics after testing positive for marijuana as she grieved the death of her biological mother.

Ledecky wins fourth Olympic 800m freestyle gold

AFP | Paris, France

American superstar Katie Ledecky powered to a fourth straight 800m freestyle title on Saturday to claim a ninth career Olympic gold, equalling the most ever won by a woman athlete in any sport. The 27-year-old hit the wall in 8min 11.04sec ahead of Australia's Ariarne Titmus (8:12.29) and the United States' Paige Madden (8:13.00).

The win was her 14th Olympic medal, with the victory at La Defense Arena re-writing the history books yet again.

A ninth gold drew her level with former Soviet-era artistic gymnast Larisa Latynina as the only women ever to collect that many titles.
