Indian airliner lands in Turkey after bomb threat

AFP | Istanbul, Turkey

Vistara flight with 247 Apeople aboard made an unscheduled landing in eastern Turkey on Friday following a bomb alert, the company said.

"Flight UK27 from Mumbai to Frankfurt has been diverted to Turkey (Erzurum airport) due to security reasons and has landed safely at 1905 hours," Vistara posted on X.

Mustafa Ciftci, the governor of Erzurum province, said 247 passengers and crew were on board, and all flights in and out of the airport had been suspended, Turkish media reported.

The passengers were taken off the plane and searched individually before being allowed into the airport terminal and a bomb detection squad inspected the plane and its luggage hold, the governor said.

During the flight, a tissue paper was discovered on the toilet with "bomb on airplane" scribbled on it, The Times of India reported.

In accordance with the new policy, doctors at Salmaniya Medical Complex (SMC) have begun referring non-emergency maternity patients to private hospitals.

A 32-year-old Asian woman, scheduled for delivery at SMC on the 31st of August, told the Daily Tribune that she was advised by doctors to seek care at a private facility unless her situation becomes an emergency.

The woman, who visited SMC due to slight discomfort, explained, "I was told by the doctor and officials to go to a private hospital if it's not an emergency."

She expressed concerns about the potential costs of private hospital care, noting that the unexpected shift has added financial stress. "We weren't prepared for this change, and now I'm trying to manage the expenses," she said.

The woman, who is likely to give birth within the next day or two, added, "I understand that stress is not ideal at this stage, but I'm struggling to find a solution."

Malaysia Airlines finds 'potential issue' on A350-900 engine

AFP | Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

alaysia Airlines said yesterday it had found a "potential issue" with the engine of an Airbus A350-900 aircraft in its fleet but added that it had been resolved. The issue comes after the European Union Aviation Safety Agency (EASA) issued an emergency directive to airlines ordering mandated inspections on A350-1000s which are powered by XWB-97 engines made by Rolls-Royce.

The checks were prompted by an "in-flight engine fire" on one of Hong Kong-based Cathay Pacific's Zurich-bound flights.

Malaysia Airlines' fleet of A350-900 planes "recently underwent a precautionary inspection, during which a potential issue with high-pressure fuel hoses on one aircraft was identified," the carrier said in a statement. ## Trump taps Musk to 'save trillions' in war on waste

AFP | Washington

 $R^{

The Tesla and SpaceX CEO has emerged as a major voice in US politics but is accused of turning the social media platform Twitter, now known as X, into a megaphone for rightwing conspiracy theories since acquiring it in 2022.

Trump told business executives at a speech in New York that Musk -- the world's richest man, according to Forbes -- would oversee a "complete financial and performance audit of the entire federal government" in a second Trump administration.

"As the first order of business, this commission will develop an action plan to totally eliminate fraud and improper payments within six months. This will save trillions of dollars," he said. The former president is in a knife-edge election race against Democratic Vice President Kamala Harris, who has been setting out her own economic vision ahead of a high-stakes televised presidential debate between the pair on Tuesday.

Trump -- whose administration oversaw an $8.2 trillion rise in the national debt, almost twice as much as President Joe Biden's -- has not publicly identified any of the savings and experts are skeptical about the size of the savings.

"By definition, this would mean Trump supports cutting Social Security, Medicare, or veterans benefits," Bharat Ramamurti, a former economic official in Joe Biden's White House, posted.

Despite his team's heavy loss, Venezuela coach Fernando Batista refused to dwell on the altitude issue after the game.
