Bahrain sends first relief aid to Turkey, Syria

TDT | Manama

The first shipment of Bahraini relief aid was dispatched yesterday to the earthquake-hit people in Turkey and Syria.

It was carried out under the patronage of HM the King's Representative for Humanitarian Work and Youth Affairs, Chairman of the National Committee to Support the Earthquake Victims in Turkey and Syria, His Highness Shaikh Nasser bin Hamad Al Khalifa.

нн Shaikh Nasser extended deepest thanks, appreciation and gratitude to His Majesty King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa, the Honorary President of the Royal Humanitarian Foundation (RHF), for his constant initiatives to support the afflicted in brotherly and friendly countries, as well as extend a helping hand to the needy across the world.

Iran 'becoming world leader in drone warfare'

London

Iran is becoming a world leader in cheap, military-grade drone production, the US Defense Intelligence Agency has warned.

Analysts say Tehran is using Russia's invasion of Ukraine as a theater to advertise its drone capabilities, becoming a key backer of President Vladimir Putin's war effort.

Three models are known to have been delivered to Russia by Iran: the Shahed 131 and 136 single-use drones, used to fly kamikaze missions, and the Mohajer-6, used for airstrikes and reconnaissance.

BRCS seeks donations for quake victims

TDT | Manama

The Bahrain Red Crescent Society (BRCS) announced that it will continue to receive donations from citizens and residents to help those affected by the earthquake in Syria and Turkey.

BRCS said that these donations are for the relief of thousands of afflicted by the earthquake that struck large areas in northern Syria and southern Turkey.

The earthquake resulted in tens of thousands of casualties and the displacement of hundreds of thousands in many towns and villages.

The BRCS called on everyone to support the victims by providing donations and provide relief aid and urgent shelter.

BRCS is working within the national campaign supported by the Royal Humanitarian Foundation (RHF) for the victims of this earthquake.

BRCS Secretary-General Mubarak Al Hadi said that these donations reflect the Kingdom's support for Syria and Turkey.

ISB holds farewell for class XII students

The Indian School organised a glittering farewell function on its Isa Town campus for the outgoing class XII students on Wednesday. It was a festive, yet poignant occasion, as the students bid goodbye to their alma mater. The students of class XI had arranged a wide array of programmes to entertain their seniors. Principal VR Palaniswamy inaugurated the programme in the presence of Vice-Principals, Staff Representative Johnson K Devassy, Head Teachers, staff and students. Principal VR Palaniswamy in his felicitation address, extolled the students to keep the name of the school flying high and to take up responsible roles in the society. Cultural events commenced with a song followed by a power packed dance performance of students which was full of energy. Ramp walk, games, songs and band made the programme vibrant and colourful. The outgoing students thanked the school for being a source of inspiration, encouragement and motivation. ISB Chairman Prince S Natarajan, Secretary Saji Antony and Executive Committee members wished them success in their future endeavours and hoped that the students would come out with flying colours in the Board Examinations.

Cheryl 'needs to master different accents'

Celebretainment | Los Angeles

♦ heryl thinks her broad accent could hamper her acting ambitions.

The 39-year-old pop star who shot to fame as part of Girls Aloud - was born and raised in Newcastle upon Tyne in North-East England, and she admits that it'll be tough for her to master other accents. Cheryl - who is currently starring in '2:22 A Ghost Story' at the Lyric Theatre in London - explained to The Independent: "I would have to really hone the craft of learning different accents if I wanted a real serious shot at act-

"I mean, I've been here [in the south of England] for 20 years and I've still got a strong Geordie accent. There aren't many roles I could do with this accent."

Cheryl is embarking on a fourmonth stint in London's West End. But the 'Fight for This Love' hitmaker insisted she won't be worrying about her reviews. She said:

"Why would I? It's not that I don't care - I do. But you know, I take supplements and go to the gym and do everything to stay healthy, so why would I then go and fill my mind with trash or toxicity?'

Cheryl announced that she was making her West End debut in December.

The singer took to Instagram to share the news with her followers.

She wrote at the time: "Hey!!! .. I am so excited to be starring in the west end thriller @222aghoststory!!

> the role of Jenny from January -April! I went to see the show with a previous cast and LOVED IT!

"I will be playing

Cheryl conceded that acting was "totally new" to her, but she was still looking forward to the challenge.

She said: "It is a totally new and exciting experience for me so if you're looking for a fun night out (and) some entertainment in your new year tickets are available now.... whenever you're ready !! #222aghoststory.

Not bragging enough is my biggest flaw, says Cardi B

Celebretainment | Los Angeles

₹ardi B thinks "not brag-Ging enough" is her big-The 30-year-old rapper

- who is one of the world's best-selling music stars believes she ought to be louder about her own achievements.

The 'Bodak Yellow' hitmaker - who worked as a stripper before finding success in the music business - wrote on Twitter: "My biggest flaw is not bragging enough."

Cardi - who has Kulture, four, and Wave, 16 months, with rap star Offset - subsequently posted a photograph of her younger sister, Hennessy, in two revealing outfits.

The images divided opinion among Cardi's social media followers - but the chart-topping star quickly fired back at the critics.

> Cardi retweeted a message that read: "Why can't people say someone looks beautiful and GO? If Cardi looks beautiful or Hennessy looks beautiful just say that. The extra s just gives pressed and obsessed. Idk stop reaching (sic)"

Meanwhile, Cardi previously admitted to being happier before she became famous. Cardi B

Robert Pattinson loves working with Dior

Celebretainment | Los Angeles

m R}$ obert Pattinson says being a Dior fragrance ambassador has been "one of the most enjoyable" experiences of his life. The 'Batman' actor has been one of the faces of the brand for a decade and he loves the working relationship he has built up with the people working at the company.

He said: "I'm not even just saying it to be nice. It's been one of the most enjoyable work, and personal, experiences that I've ever had in my life."

But the 36-year-old actor who is in a relationship with model Suki Waterhouse - admitted he isn't good at identifying his favourite scents, when it comes to fragrance, but the smell he loves most is one that's very personal.

> azine: "I mean, it's kind of cheesy - if you're in love with someone, their smell becomes very particular to you... so yeah, something like "girlfriend in a dressing
